

LAWYERS & LITERATURE

the turn to stories in the education of lawyers

Spring, 2018

Stories in the Education of Lawyers

▪ James R. Elkins ▪

Preface

Prologue: “Tell Me a Story”

Claiming Law School as a Place of Stories chapter1

The Law World Gets Real chapter2

Meditations on the Fictions We Live chapter3

A Letter to My Friend, Lowell Komie chapter4

Stories Take Center Stage chapter5

Our Work with Stories chapter6

A Conversation about Lawyers &
Literature Continues chapter7

Listening To Others Talk About What We Are Trying to Do in Lawyers & Literature chapter8

Talking with Rebecca and Clara about Their Encounter with Fictional Lawyers chapter 9

An Autobiographical Postscript epilogue