

LAWYERS & LITERATURE

Spring, 2019

Stories in the Education of a Lawyer

▪ James R. Elkins ▪

Preface
Prologue: “Tell Me a Story”
Claiming Law School as a Place of Stories	chapter1
The Law World Gets Real	chapter2
Meditations on the Fictions We Live	chapter3
Letter to My Friend, Lowell Komie	chapter4
Stories Take Center Stage	chapter5
Stories Prod Us to See Our Education and Ourselves in a More Critical Light	chapter6
Robert, and His Fellow Escape Artists	chapter7
Endnotes and Detours: Rewinding the Lawyers and Literature Course	chapter8
Talking with Rebecca and Clara about Their Encounter with Fictional Lawyers	chapter 9
An Autobiographical Postscript	epilogue